MONDAY, JANUARY 30, 1922.

We hope to hear from many additional individuals in the matter of subscriptions to a cannery here. We must hurry, if we intend to get in any worth while work this season. Let us have your subscription to the cannery or the potato drying house, or both.

A man who is a candidate for town clerk and treasurer in a Massachusetts town, is being opposed by his wife. The wife says she is running to prove that women voting is not a mere passing fad. We do not suppose there will be any domestic trouble growing out of the situation wherein a man and his wife are out for the same job. It is a victory, no matter which one wins. True, they may throw a few imaginary brick bats at each other during the campaign. But we have seen two lawyers in the courthouse hurl pretty strong language at each other, then go down the street together, and, apparently the best of friends!

It is to be hoped that the anti-lynching bill now before the senate, having been passed by the house, will fall of passage, although it seems now very likely to pass. It will not stop lynching. It will not even reduce lynchings. The fact is, it is aimed at the South, and its promoters profess that it is intended to stop the lynching of negroes in the South. But it will not; it is an unwarranted interference with the sovereignty of the State, and about the first case to come up under the proposed law, provided it is passed, will be a wholesale mob murder in New York, Chicago, East St. Louis, Atlanta or California. It may restrain, here and there, a case of lynching, but it will produce a wholesale slaughter in cases where race clash. The law, as proposed, is a slap at every officer and every court in every state in the nation. We deplore lynch law; it is unjustifiable, indefensible. But federal power thus usurping the powers of the individual states is going too far afield. And the movement comes at the time when, throughout the South, at least, there is being put forth a determined effort to suppress lynch law. It comes too late, even were it a good law, and will serve but to bring on lynchings.

Our cat says winter was a long time coming, but came in with a rush when it did come.

Our cat says it is too late to mend when you are smashed all to pieces.

Our cat says a man's character is the eye through which he interprets life.

Our cat says there is too much reformation and too little regeneration in the world.

Our cat says it is a mean man that speaks evil of his neighbor without feeling ashamed of himself.

Our cat says rejoice with the man who is prospering.

Our cat says if everybody would pay as far as able times would greatly improve.

Our cat says those who live as pilgrims on earth do not dread the time of departure.

Our cat says easy money is either corrupt or corrupting.

Russian School System Suffers Break Down

Moscow, Jan. 28.—The virtual breakdown of Russia's school system is one of the tragedies of the general economic situation. Outside of this city, in the dozens of smaller places where the correspondent travelled, the poverty of both teachers and pupils is appalling.

Those in the United States who got their education by tramping for miles through the snows to the little red schoolhouse were far better off than the eager students of this land.

"How can I teach?" asked a woman teacher in Samara. "I have barely enough clothes to cover my body. I sleep in a cold room and I have nothing to eat. For months my salary has not been paid. I keep life together by trading in the public market, selling goods on commission. Nor can I expect the children to learn. They come to school hungry, poorly clad and, as the rooms are cold, we go through the motions of learning, that is all. They haven't books, there is no chalk for the blackboard. The discipline goes to pieces."

In Moscow, teachers salaries have not been paid for many months, and recently, when they were given from 500,000 to 500,000 rubles each as a month's salary, equivalent to the price of ten pounds of butter, half enough to buy a pair of shoes, or one-tenth the cost of a suit of clothes. The men and women teachers are ragged, wearing clothing that is literally falling apart. Some of them have secured the privilege of living in the school buildings where some heat is furnished. The clothing of the pupils is on a par with that of the teachers.

In Moscow schools, notwithstanding, there is good discipline and the pupils show an abiding will to learn. They are astonishingly light-hearted. Except some rather strange religious opinions they are happy and merry for all their poverty and just like American school children.

They are not at all Communistic. They make fun of their comrades or teachers who wear long hair and call themselves Bolsheviki. They attend lectures by Lunacharski commissar of Schools, Madame Lenine, or others, that run through a whole afternoon and they do this on an empty stomach and yet do not complain.

Persian Government to Put Down Rebellion

Constantinople, Jan. 28.—The Persian government has organized an expedition to put down the rebellion headed by Simek, the Kurdish band chief, who has several times menaced the city of Tabriz, according to advices from Teheran. The government troops have been augmented by Cossacks from Teheran and by contingents from northern provinces.

Colonel Ludenberg, one of the Swedish officers now in charge of the Persian militia, has been placed in complete control of all the military operations against Simek. The Swedish officers have succeeded the British who have withdrawn from any action with the Persian Rifles or in other similar organizations in Persia.

Riza Khan, Persian minister of war and formerly a member of the Cossack military organization in Persia who is now almost the dictator of the Persian cabinet is determined to put an end to Simek's uprising.

One of Simek's most recent raids took place in October when part of his forces attacked the American Lutheran Mission at Sybulak when 500 pandarmes who surrendered were shot down with machine guns. Simek's wild tribesmen then looted the town.

Educational Movement in Burma Declining

Rangoon, Jan. 20.—The Nationalist educational movement in Burma which originated more than a year ago appears to be declining.

Large numbers of students have been leaving the Nationalist schools and going back to the government schools and government-aided mission schools whence they came.

A number of the Nationalist schools have been closed chiefly because of the difficulty of supporting them without taxation, because no university will recognize degrees conferred by the Nationalist College and because of the belief held by many Burman Nationalists that a permanent system of Burmese education cannot be formed until complete home rule has been attained.

One of the first steps in the Nationalist educational movement was a boycott of agitation against the University of Mandalay. However, Maung E., of Mandalay, one of the leaders of the boycott agitation has just asked in the Rangoon Times that the boycott be called off. He declared that "at this stage of the movement it is manifest that an unconditional boycott can produce dire consequences to the nation. In Burma the boycott of one university means a boycott of education."

This staying aloof, like Achilles, sulking in his tent with the peevishness of a child, is a bad policy in public life questions. The University boycott is like the Australian boomerang and now rebounds to the aggressor."

Planning for Repair Shop On Mexican Border

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 28.—Plans for the inauguration of a large repair shop at some point on the border, to put into condition the hundreds of disabled Mexican locomotives are being pushed by Ramon P. de Negri, director general of Mexican railroads, according to his announcement here. He says the plans are almost complete.

The shops would employ 500 American machinists to do the skilled labor and from 500 to 1,000 helpers and common laborers, at a conservative estimate.

American machinists would be furnished by the international association of machinists and would reside on the American side of the border.

J. W. Kelly, international representative of the machinists, who recently returned from Mexico City, is a close friend of Mr. de Negri, and has had several conferences with him regarding the shops, he said.

Juarez is looked upon as the most favorable point for the shops on account of climatic conditions and railroad facilities through El Paso.

The average monthly payroll for 500 machinists and helpers at their present scale would be almost $100,000 a month, officials said.

Mr. Kelly organized five Mexican locals of machinists with a total membership of 4000 he said. Three other locals now are being formed.

President Obregon and Mr. de Negri are members of the International Association of Machinists, and the president is a practical machinist, Mr. Kelly said.

Christians Flee From Their Homes in Cilicia

Jerusalem, Jan. 30.—It is estimated here that 200,000 Christians have fled from their homes in Cilicia since it became known that France had made a treaty with the Turkish Nationalists government at Angora returning that province to the Turks. Fearing to trust themselves to the mercy of the Turks these refugees decided to leave their mother country and seek asylum in foreign lands. They flocked to Mersina and other Cilician ports seeking vessels to take them away.

The Greek government had provided a few ships and these carried thousands of refugees to Greek ports. Many others were transported to coast cities in Syria, Palestine and Egypt. It is understood here that in these latter countries they were refused permission to land.

Will Introduce Suffrage Bill

Tokyo, Jan. 28.—The Kenseikai or the opposition party is preparing to introduce the universal suffrage bill in the approaching session of the Imperial Diet.

Viscount Kato, president and leader of the party held a special meeting decided to strike out the article "persons leading independent life" from the suffrage bill. The limitation hitherto adhered to by the party has been regarded by the people as an obstacle to the realization of universal suffrage, but the party now decided to cancel it in consideration of the sudden change of political ideas of the people.

The introduction of the universal suffrage bill will be one of the special features in the approaching Diet.

Plan to Curb "Don't Care" Driver

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 29.—The motorist who persisted in violating the local traffic rules would suffer more than he who broke them infrequently if a novel plan invented by the police here to curb the "don't care" driver is put into effect.

Violators would be rated by means of punch marks on registration cards which motorists in Florida are required to carry with them. When a motorist aroused the ire of a traffic officer through failure to obey signals or by the cutting of corners, the officer would demand the driver's registration card and for each violation of the rules would punch it. Every motorist thus would carry his record with him and when haled into court the judge would examine the card and ascertain the number of times he had violated the law and been released with a reprimand from an officer. The hardened offender would get the limit while the driver with a good record would be dealt with lightly.

Cossack Leader Will Visit United States

Shanghai, Jan. 28.—More than a hundred Chinese students who went to France early last year under a plan by which they were to be enabled to support themselves while obtaining education along industrial lines were brought back more or less destitute when the plan failed to work out in accordance with expectations. A method to provide temporarily for these students was worked out in December by Chinese authorities in Shanghai and measures were undertaken to send those who live at points in China distant from Shanghai back to their homes.

Chinese Students Return From France

Shanghai, Jan. 28.—Ataman Semenov, the Siberian Cossack leader who sought refuge in China after he was repudiated by Russian military units in the Pre-Amur zone, said early in December that he intended to go to the United States with the purpose of studying American governmental methods and at that time he expressed the hope that in America he would succeed in obtaining financial backing for a new anti-Bolshevik uprising in Siberia in the coming spring. Semenov made a brief stay in Shanghai in November and then proceeded to Tientsin.

Young Women Game Life To Save Affianced Husband

Geneva, Jan. 29.—Miss Gaponi, a 20-year old girl of Locarno, has just given her blood and then her life to save her affianced husband who had been seriously injured in an automobile accident. The physician declared that immediate infusion of blood was the only hope and Miss Gaponi, against her parents' wishes volunteered here.

The operation was a success, both recovered health but three weeks later the girl contracted pneumonia, attributed to the indirect result of loss of blood. The wedding had been fixed for Christmas day.

William Penn First Motor Ship to Sail to China

Shanghai, Jan. 28.—The ship William Penn, said to be the first motor-ship owned by the United States government and the first vessel of this type to come to China, after visiting Shanghai is proceeding to London by way of the Suez Canal. The William Penn is 455 feet six inches long, 60 feet beam and is equipped with a power plant of 4,500 horse power that gave the ship an average speed on its voyage to the Far East from New York at 11.1 knots an hour.

Hard Times for King of Bulgaria

These are hard times for the young King Boris of Bulgaria who has been obliged to sell some of the animals in his private zoo and a lot of palms, vines and flowers in the gardens of his palace at Varna.

"Bulgaria is poor and so am I," said the king to the correspondent. Besides, I am too busy trying to re-establish my country in the good opinion of men and nations to give any time to my gardens and menagerie.

"I am now using the palace gardens to plant potatoes instead of flowers. In these lean and dark days, it is largely a question of bread with us, not beauty."

Russian General Now Drives Taxicab

Paris, Jan. 30.—Passers-by on the boulevards were surprised recently to see a distinguished looking man fall on the back of a taxicab driver and kiss him on both cheeks, the regulation salutation between Russians. The passenger was a Russian admiral and the chauffeur was a former Russian general, celebrated during the first period of the war, now earning his living by driving a taxicab.

Students who take their meals in a very modest boarding house in the Latin Quarter had a similar surprise recently. As the serving woman, a woman of middle age whose worn garments could not conceal her distinguished appearance, approached a table, a young girl student suddenly arose, knelt on one knee and kissed the hem of the waitress' apron. The student had recognized her as a former lady in waiting of the Russian court.

A Wonderful Cure

I had been troubled for several months with a severe skin trouble which had been pronounced eczema, which covered the greater part of my body.

In a few weeks' time, using Storm's Lotion as directed, the trouble has disappeared. Your lotion gave immediate relief with the first application, and cured the trouble.

I certainly am grateful for finding the lotion and shall recommend it to any sufferer of skin trouble.
